County government serves as the middle layer of government between federal and state governments and local municipalities. New Jersey has 21 counties, and no two counties are exactly the same. Each county’s demographic, geographic, and economic characteristics dictate how they deliver services to their communities. The organization and structure of counties are tailored to fit their communities’ needs and characteristics.

In Passaic County’s commission form of government, the County Commissioners discharge the legislative and executive responsibilities of government. The seven-member board is headed by a director who is selected to serve a one-year term at the Board’s annual re-organizational meeting, held in January. Each County Commissioner is elected at-large for a staggered three-year term.

The Passaic County Commissioners are responsible for an annual budget of approximately $467 million serving nearly 525,000 residents in 16 municipalities.

Dear Neighbor,

On behalf of the Passaic County Board of County Commissioners, I am proud to present the 2025 Passaic County Directory. This guide provides key contact details for local, county, state, and federal government services, ensuring you have access to the programs and resources that support our residents every day.

Since its founding in 1837, Passaic County has flourished as a vibrant, community-driven region. Our mission is to enrich the lives of our residents through expanded services for veterans, strengthened shared service agreements that enhance efficiency, comprehensive programs that support our seniors, and the preservation of historic sites that celebrate our rich heritage—alongside many other vital initiatives and departments. These efforts reflect our steadfast commitment to building a county where every individual has the opportunity to thrive.

We continue to build on our support for veterans by increasing access to essential services and benefits. Through shared service agreements with our municipalities and neighboring counties, we are improving operations and saving taxpayer dollars. Investments in senior services ensure that older residents have access to transportation, social programs, and wellness initiatives. At the same time, we are committed to preserving our county's rich past by maintaining and restoring historic sites that tell the story of our community.

This directory serves as a valuable tool to help you navigate the many services available to you. Our dedicated county staff is always ready to assist with any questions or concerns.

Upon election to the Board, he retired as a Sales Representative for the Entenmann's Division of George Weston Bakeries. He remains a member of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (IBT) Union Local 802 located in Long Island City, NY. Throughout his tenure on the Board of County Commissioners, Director Lepore has been elected director of the board five times and has served on every standing committee, including the Passaic County Technical-Vocational Schools and the Passaic County Community College Boards of School Estimate.

Director Lepore helped spearhead fiscal initiatives and served as budget chair for over a decade, resulting in nearly a dozen credit upgrades to Passaic County's bond ratings from Moody's Financial Services, an independent credit rating agency which has given the County its highest bond rating in its history. This has resulted in hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings on interest payments and debt service for taxpayers. Director Lepore's fiscal stewardship has allowed our County government to rein in costs, increase efficiencies, and more effectively share services.

PASSAIC COUNTY COURT HOUSE

73-87 Hamilton Street, Paterson, NJ 07505

The Court House and its surrounding buildings were constructed during the American Renaissance and are deeply rooted in the histories of the City of Paterson and Passaic County. These structures reflect the rich cultural past of the city, county, and state. Like most buildings erected during the time period, the Passaic County Court House has a European architectural influence, modeling St. Peter's Basilica located within the Vatican City. Construction of the Court House was completed in November 1903. The architect, Samuel Burrage Reed, was one of the most prominent regional architects of the late 19th Century and early 20th Century. The Passaic County Court House still serves its intended purpose, acting as a functioning, public court house providing the highest level of judiciary public service in the County. The Department of Cultural & Historic Affairs oversees rotations of artistic and historic exhibitions in the Court House rotunda, and regularly hosts events to engage the public with the building and its history.

Today, the cities of Passaic, Clifton, and Paterson occupy most of this land. The current structure on site was built circa 1815 by John and Anna Vreeland. It was purchased by Henry Hamilton in 1856, remaining in that family until 1972.

The Department of Cultural & Historic Affairs is dedicated to preserving and interpreting the history of the Hamilton-Van Wagoner homestead and the role it played in the City of Clifton's 19th century rural history. Through tours, lectures, and events, the Clifton Museum promotes the exploration of life in 19th century America, the events and people of the 19th century, and the need and importance of historic preservation.

LAMBERT CASTLE AND LAMBERT TOWER

3 Valley Road, Paterson, NJ 07503

Lambert Castle, referred to as “The Castle” by many local residents, is the late Victorian-era mansion of former silk magnate Catholina Lambert. Built in 1892, Lambert Castle represents one of several rare examples of castellated residential architecture in the US. It was here that Lambert displayed his prized collection of European and American paintings. Lambert Castle was listed on the New Jersey Register of Historic Places in 1975 and the National Register of Historic Places in 1976. The site is currently closed for renovations and is set to reopen in 2025-2026.

Situated within Garret Mountain Reservation, the 70-feet tall Lambert Tower was built in 1896. After Lambert’s death, the tower was open to visitors throughout the 1930s and was used by the United States’ military as a lookout for enemy aircraft during World War II. Today, visitors are able to enjoy spectacular panoramic views from the top of the observation tower.
